Public institution Development Agency of the Šibenik-Knin County and Women in Adria, organized Conference for female entrepreneurs in tourism, where participated 31 participants. This conference brings a lot of news, analysis and excellent discussions on topics that cover tourism at all levels. Participants had the opportunity to listen to successful entrepreneurial stories and hear advice that will help them in their daily work.

One of the main problems for female entrepreneurs is to find an adequate workforce, so at this conference was discussed about:

- where to find workers
- how to keep them all season/year
- which is all that is needed to hire foreign workers
- how can they choose us as their employer
- how to motivate and reward them.

Also, it was discussed about the much-needed means of financing, especially for small and medium-sized entrepreneurs as well as differences between operational and financial leasing.

The event was for:

- entrepreneurs in tourism
- entrepreneurs who are indirectly related to tourism
- women employed in tourism activities
- seasonal workers
- students from the mentioned fields
- to everyone who is interested in this area

Public institution Development Agency of the Šibenik-Knin County and the City of Vodice organized lectures in Vodice from January 9th to February 3rd 2023, from 17:00h - 19:00h, where participated in total 445 participants. Lectures were about cultivation, processing and promotion of medicinal herbs, fruits and vegetables that thrive in Dalmatia as a part of TAKE IT SLOW educational activities.

Through a series of lectures and workshops, the aim is to promote sustainable agriculture in Dalmatia, to educate citizens, future and current producers of herbs, fruits and vegetables about the possibilities of growing, processing, placing and using plants; connect producers with processors and the tourism sector and ultimately contribute to the promotion and positioning of this sector in the entire Adriatic region.

The main lecturer, prof. B.Sc. ing. agr. Goran Vitanović, owner of OPG "Art of Essence", is an active promoter of organic farming and permaculture, and since 1996 has been engaged in the cultivation and processing of vegetables, fruits, olives and immortelles, as well as the production of essential oils from wild plants.

- Introductory speeches about the lecture
Antagonism, complementarity and functionality among herbs
- Seed cleaning and storage
- All about composting and using compost
- Fertilization, all types of fertilizers and methods of application, including green fertilization, compost tea with aero pumps and selected microorganisms, and mycorrhiza, and making and applying your own biofertilizer, primarily liquid fertilizer made of nettle, comfrey, and horsetail
- Earthworms as organisms for biomass processing, earthworms as fertilizer (cultivation, screening, storage, use...)
- Substrate types and soil types - how to prepare the substrate independently (which substrates have proven to be the best in practice for growing vegetables, seedlings, textures, pH values, mixtures...)
- All about weeds (why some weeds are desirable and some less desirable, they are also indicators of the condition of the soil and microclimate)
- Joint planning and design of the garden - flowers, harmony of the garden, magnet for pollinators, relationships between plants (joint drawing of several types of mixed gardens and placing them in relationships and balances: colors, shapes, sizes, smells, representation numbers, proportions) and layouts, etc., a story about phytohormones , aromatic scents that affect both humans and other plants)

- Bio preparations that we can buy, but also make from herbs and minerals
- Rhythms and cycles in nature and gardening, and the lunar calendar
- Biodynamic agriculture
