Minutes (short summary in English)

The meeting selected stakeholders which are involved in the management of cultural/spirituals/historical roats in the Abruzzo area. The purpose is the identification and the planning of all the possible interconnections with the Icarus and Framesport projects, in particular with the local pilot actions.

The debate on the material and immaterial cultural heritage in the Adriatic Area, demonstrates how its plurality and wealth is only partially perceived and known. Furthermore, it demonstrates that it is often related to individual communities or states, and not to the broader Adriatic community.

In a logic of integration and in line with the main objectives of territorial cooperation, the local pilots is designed as a real and practical response to the emerging needs, aiming not only at the integration of cultural forms often kept apart from each other, but to create a bond by means of transnational itineraries capable of generating social and economic growth in the involved areas.

The representative of Italia Nostra and CISC ABRUZZO point out the need of creating new transnational paths connected to the cultural sites, in this perspective the app developed from Arap (Icarus project) can be a unique and identifiable instrument. The app can highlight and ling events, initiatives, traditions, devotional routes into a common system that will extend and qualify the local tourist offer integrating of the common heritage, enhancing and connecting the spirit of the places in the area and, last but not least, strengthening an identity of the Adriatic and the related sense of community.

On the other hand the associations can contribute to the activities for the valorisation of small ports (Framesport project), enriching the knowledge of the traditions and histories linked to those places.

4 Meeting's results / benefits / problems

In order to valorise in a sustainable manner the natural and cultural heritage in the Adriatic area participants agreed to offer to ARAP all necessary data, pictures and information related to local routes, in order to include them in the app. They also agreed to give their contribution to the cultural animation of small ports.

5 Next steps

When the pilot actions are ready for finalization, ARAP will contact them to see if they have any inputs to add.
