TEMPUS E-NEWSLETTERS

1. INTRODUCTION

A newsletter is a common communication tool for the dissemination of messages to targeted receivers. By means of a newsletter, it's possible to update the readers about Project results, news, and initiatives, events, or to highlighting interesting case studies. It's also a way to measure, over the Mailchimp tool, the interest of target groups for the project or sent information.

Newsletters are project periodicals issued by communication management of the project on a quarterly basis in which the latest TEMPUS topics – results or developments – are published. Results will be disseminated to persons and organizations within the target group/stakeholders. The newsletter will be published in electronic format and made available through the website or an e-mail version.

To be successful, the newsletter should be the result of joint work between all project partners under Communication manager coordination and possible involvement of external stakeholders.

A Mailchimp account or other with same references will be set up and curated on a regular basis by RERA to host, design and send out the project e-Newsletter. A mailing list will be gathered through project partners' inputs. However, it is important to emphasize, in order to comply with the GDPR rules, in some cases won't be possible to contact via the Mailchimp template i.e. by RERA's part, so the newsletter will be shared with the project partners who will send it to that kind of contacts (in accordance with the consent given strictly to project partner).

Consolidated according to GDPR rules, the database for sending Newsletters will be shared with PP's.

The newsletter will be covered with a privacy policy.

In order to expand a mailing list, PP's should take an opportunity during the workshops, meetings with stakeholders and on all different occasions in daily activities to add new subscribers to the newsletter mailing list.

2. TEMPUS E-NEWSLETTERS

Coordinated by WP2 leader (PI RERA) the project newsletters were prepared in cooperation with all project partners and then distributed by e-mails. Each edition was prepared in both national languages and also in the English language, and publish at the project website and if it's possible at the institutional websites of project partners.
